2. Executive Summary

The Southwest Virginia Cultural Heritage Commission invites proposals to provide website design and development services for Heartwood, Southwest Virginia's Artisan Gateway. Heartwood is a gateway that encompasses Southwest Virginia's cultural heritage venues, attractions, and initiatives.

The Heartwood website is a new development effort that will become a gateway to existing regional websites. The Crooked Road (Virginia's Heritage Music Trail) and Round the Mountain (Southwest Virginia's Artisan Network) currently exist and need to be revamped and integrated with the main Heartwood website.

The website we are seeking to develop will be a technologically comprehensive matrix that will allow visitors, travelers, web surfers, studio artisans, musicians, local venues and students to collaborate with each other in a way that offers each a positive experience, either cyber or real, of this place we call Southwest Virginia.

The Heartwood website should be a world class site that will bring together both clever functionality and a high level of artistic design. As the site will be a primary marketing tool in the promoting of artisans, musicians and the communities of a 19 county region of Southwest Virginia, it will need to deliver a strong message to visitors. It will need to sell our region, it's culture, history, natural gifts and rural charm by creating a brand mystique that is unique and interesting. The site needs to deliver a message equal to that of the world's best regional destinations. In addition, the site needs to interface seamlessly with several other organizations which come under the Heartwood umbrella as well as the Virginia Tourism website.

This RFP is intended to help Heartwood find and partner with an experienced and competent website design and development firm. This partnership should result in a finished product that will both "WOW" and inspire travelers from all over the world to both go deeper into the site and deeper into our region.

Note: A DVD is available upon request that covers the Heartwood project and affiliated organizations.

2.1. Southwest Virginia Cultural Heritage Commission

Along with being the website for Heartwood, the proposed site will serve as the web presence for the Southwest Virginia Cultural Heritage Commission. The Commission was established in 2008 by the Virginia General Assembly to serve as an organizational apparatus connecting and supporting all initiatives, venues and attractions in Southwest Virginia which provide visitors with exposure to and experience with the history, culture, craft, music, outdoor recreation and natural beauty of the region.

Heartwood will provide a physical center and gateway for the region's unique assets, the website will serve as the electronic center and gateway for what the region has to offer. The Commission will oversee both Heartwood and the website.

2.2. Heartwood Project Background

Heartwood is the name given to a special project being developed for the Appalachian region of Southwest Virginia. Heartwood will become a destination for travelers. A gateway which invites and leads those visitors out into the hills and hollows and small towns of the region, and will become a brand that symbolizes creativity, natural beauty, hand made quality, and unique cultural identity.

2.3. Heartwood's Mission

"Southwest Virginia's Artisan Gateway will showcase the cultural and natural heritage of Southwest Virginia and contribute to a sustainable economy.

Heartwood will serve as a gateway for the counties of Bland, Buchanan, Carroll, Dickenson, Floyd, Franklin, Giles, Grayson, Lee, Montgomery, Patrick, Pulaski, Russell, Scott, Smyth, Tazewell, Washington, Wise, and Wythe.

Through retail sales and demonstrations, Heartwood will be representative of crafts created by individuals as well as venues that include craft as an institutional program. Promotion of visitation to these sites and selected individual studios will be a priority of the Gateway's visitor services.

Heartwood will strive to be a catalyst for community development, fostering partnerships for education, marketing, and entrepreneurial activities related to the region's tourism opportunities and will promote an appreciation for the rich culture of southwest Virginia."

2.4. The Heartwood Building

Heartwood is both a tourism initiative as well as a project intended to develop cultural and community assets. It seeks to bring together and illuminate the music, craft, history and outdoor activities of a magnificent 19 county region that has previously been overlooked and underdeveloped. The Heartwood project brings together Federal, State and local agencies; arts, craft and music non-profits; private corporations and a wide variety of creative individuals, whose collaboration will lead to national and international recognition of the region and its gifts.

The Heartwood building will be an iconic structure inspired by the spirit and character of Southwest Virginia. Elements of traditional buildings and structures native to the settlers of this area served as touchstones for a unique and dynamic building that somehow seems as home in 2010 as it would in 1810.

Designed by award winning architects, Spectrum Design of Roanoke, the 29,000 square foot building will sit on eight acres next to the Virginia Highlands Community College. The LEED Certified building will feature artisan galleries, a superior food court with locally supplied organic products, storyboards and maps of the region to highlight the wonderful opportunities for exploring, exhibits of featured artisans and a place for music performances as a stop on The Crooked Road. The building will also house the offices of the 'Round the Mountain: Southwest Virginia Artisan's Network and The Crooked Road Heritage Music Trail staffs.

Located in picturesque and historic Abingdon, Virginia, off exit 14 of Interstate 81 Heartwood will capture significant numbers of tourists and travelers coming to and traveling through the region and create a significant and profound economic impact that will resonate throughout the region. A recent Market Study conducted by Economic Research Associates of Washington, D.C. estimated that within three years, the Artisan Gateway will easily draw 270,000 visitors per year. Located in the heart of a total market area of 66 million people, the number is sure to grow as the word gets out.

As the gateway to Southwest Virginia, Heartwood will be the physical symbol of the region's new creative economy, and a one-of-a-kind tourism destination for travelers to explore the cultural, musical and artisan culture that is distinctive of the region.

2.5. Closing Date for Receipt of Proposal

Proposals should be returned by midnight January 12th, 2009.

2.6. Response to Questions

Questions received by January 7th, 2009 will be replied to by January 9th, 2009.

2.7. Contract Award

The contract will be awarded and signed no later than February 1st, 2009.

2.8. Project Start

Development on the Heartwood website is expected to start as soon as a capable firm is chosen and able to begin.

2.9. Project Duration

The Southwest Virginia Cultural Heritage Commission hopes to have the website project completed by November 1st, 2009.

Bidders are encouraged to propose iterations and frequent releases with multiple deliverables where appropriate.

Bidders should indicate their ability to meet this delivery date. Where the bidder is unable to comply with this date, propose an alternative timescale.

2.10. Heartwood Affiliates

The Heartwood project is affiliated with The Crooked Road and Round the Mountain organizations which both support the cultural heritage of Southwest Virginia.

The Crooked Road and Round the Mountain websites need a graphical overhaul and proper integration with the new Heartwood website capabilities (see Section 2).

The Crooked Road [<http://www.thecrookedroad.org/>]: Virginia's Heritage Music Trail, has been featured in USA Today, Southern Living magazine, The Washington Post, National Geographic Traveler, and more. In the past three years, more than 40 new businesses have developed in downtown areas along The Crooked Road.

Round the Mountain [<http://www.roundthemountain.org/>]: a network of the artisans in 19 counties and four cities in Southwest Virginia, continues developing new trails which will lead tourists to artisan studios, farms, regional galleries, artisan centers, and other regional attractions as they enjoy locally grown produce and the cultural diversity of the region.

3. Specification of Requirements

The following requirements are the initial ideas for the creation of the Heartwood website. The Southwest Virginia Cultural Heritage Commission is expecting the Bidder to do numerous rounds of discovery to help innovate and expand functionality in order to create a unique and compelling on-line experience. The development process should be flexible and iterative with opportunity for frequent reviews and response by the Commission.

3.1. Objectives

The website should accomplish the following objectives:

- ☐ Creation of a new Heartwood website presence.
- ☐ Revamping the Crooked Road and Round the Mountain websites.
- ☐ World-class, cutting edge design to promote Heartwood and Southwest Virginia.
- ☐ Directory of Southwest Artisans, their arts and crafts, videographs, and audio recordings.
- ☐ Ability to attract and inform Tourists about making a trip to Heartwood and the Southwest region of Virginia.
- ☐ Ability to search and discover southwest destinations such as lodging, events, exhibits, outdoor experiences, dining and shopping.
- ☐ Interactive mapping, planning, and routing of destinations.
- ☐ On-line selling of Heartwood memorable material.

3.2. Requirement -- Look and Feel

The design of the website should accomplish the following:

- ☐ World class design.
- ☐ Engaging and impressive home pages.
- ☐ Communicate one brand for the region.
- ☐ Viral components should be developed to increase interest.
- ☐ A virtual tour of the Heartwood building, galleries and grounds.
- ☐ Imagery should be vibrant and capture a Southwest Virginia quality. The story of SWVA should be relayed with unique authenticity.
- ☐ Content should be localized to individual communities.
- ☐ The look should change regularly either through the seasons or across topical information.

3.3. Requirement -- Artisan Directory

The Heartwood website will be the on-line presence for the Heartwood Artisan Center. Southwest Virginia artisans will be highlighted on the site, users will be able to explore information about their techniques and craft in-depth.

The Round the Mountain [<http://www.roundthemountain.org>] website contains an Artisan directory, the ability to reuse and integrate with this information should be assessed.

- ☐ Artisans can be searched and discovered by geographical location.
- ☐ Artisan information can be viewed and researched.
- ☐ Artisan recordings can be streamed and listened to while browsing the rest of the site. Organization and uploading of audio recordings will not be the responsibility of the Bidder.
- ☐ A tourist can view artisan videographs. Videographs will be produced by a third-party, production of which is not the responsibility of the Bidder.

3.4. Requirement -- Interactive Map

An interactive map should provide the ability to search for and locate destinations that exist in Southwest Virginia.

The Virginia Tourism Corporation [<http://www.vatc.org>] has travel planning for hotels and other destinations that can be used by the Heartwood website. Travel planning information can be provided in several formats, including XML, no additional "back-end" needed with proper integration.

The Round the Mountain [<http://www.roundthemountain.org>] website contains Trip Planning capabilities, the ability to reuse and integrate with this information should be assessed.

The Crooked Road [<http://www.crookedroad.org>] website contains Music Events, the ability to reuse and integrate with this information should be assessed.

- ☐ Interactive map that allows easy browsing and highlights area interests and experiences.
- ☐ Locate and review Artisan studios and locations.
- ☐ Ability to search and review lodgings.
- ☐ Ability to book a lodging. [Desirable]
- ☐ Ability to search for restaurants.
- ☐ Customer reviews can be reviewed and left for a restaurant.
- ☐ Events can be searched and viewed.
- ☐ Reservations for events can be made. [Desirable]
- ☐ Scenic destinations and routes should be searchable and viewable.

- ☐ Outdoor recreation, e.g hiking, should be searchable.
- ☐ Ability to book an outdoor experience [Desirable]
- ☐ The website should integrate with the Virginia Tourism Corporation (VTC) data to obtain trip planning information (attractions, lodging, events, exhibits, outdoors, dining and shopping).

3.5. Requirement -- Trip Planner

The Heartwood Trip Planner is a central piece of functionality to allow a user to discover and route a trip through Southwest Virginia.

- ☐ Interactive map that allows easy browsing and highlights area interests and experiences.
- ☐ A tourist can create and map Trails with destinations and experiences (Artisans, Restaurants, Lodging, Events, Scenic views, Outdoor Experiences)
- ☐ A Trails map should determine the ideal route and provide reliable directions to and from each destination.
- ☐ Continuing Journey, suggestions for other things to do while at or around your main destinations routed.

3.6. Requirement -- Integration

The Heartwood website will need to integrate with existing data assets.

- ☐ The Virginia Tourism Corporation [<http://www.vatc.org>] has travel planning for hotels and other destinations that can be used by the Heartwood website. Travel planning information can be provided in several formats, including XML, no additional “back-end” needed with proper integration.
- ☐ The Round the Mountain [<http://www.roundthemountain.org>] website contains Artisan and Trip Planning capabilities, the ability to reuse and integrate with this information should be assessed.
- ☐ The Crooked Road [<http://www.crookedroad.org>] website contains Music Events, the ability to reuse and integrate with this information should be assessed.

3.7. Requirement - Affiliate Sites

The Crooked Road and Round the Mountain websites require a graphical overhaul and proper integration with the new Heartwood website capabilities.

The affiliate site structures and information should be reused, the main goal is to re-skin the affiliate sites so they appear professional and follow the same quality that is expected from the new Heartwood website.

The affiliate sites should share the new functionality that is being developed for the Heartwood website including, but not limited to: the Artisan Directory, Trip Planner, Interactive Map and Memorable Marketplace.

3.8. Requirement -- Kiosks

There will be several kiosks throughout the Heartwood building. The kiosks should limit the user to information specific to that section of the building or exhibit.

3.9. Requirement -- Content Management System

Ability to manage content easily by nontechnical staff.
